

My View

A glimpse of Wine Country
from an insider's perspective

“After nearly 30 years of looking at the wonderful Alexander Valley and Russian River views, this last year my view has been occasionally enclosed by an eight-story tower sculpture created by the artist Ann Hamilton here on Oliver Ranch. As you enter the space, which is designed for other artists to use for singing, speaking or reading their poetry, you enter a world unlike the beauty that I see outside the tower, but with a spectacular beauty of its own. It is one of 18 site-specific sculptures on the ranch.”

STEVEN OLIVER

Oliver, an art patron and construction firm founder, owns a 100-acre ranch near Geyserville